CONGRESSMAN THEO. BURTON'S SPEECH

Anti-Injunction Plank is Inserted In Platform by Big Majority and Minority Report is Killed.

CHICAGO, June 18—The Ohio delegation started up "Glory, Glory, Hallelujah," and was joined by other states.

At 3:06 the Taft demonstration ceased and George Knight of California, seconded Taft's nomination. Foraker was then nominated by Delegate McCoy of Coshocton, O.

Coliseum, Chicago, June 12—When the Republican national convention reconvened this morning the chill had given away to a temperature well into the eighties.

Delegates took off their coats, but Chairman Lodge retained his tight fitting broadcloth. Taft campaign managers put out several thousand fans bearing the countenance of their candidate on one side and "tried and found true" on the other.

"Let injunction be the issue against the Republican convention to restrain the nomination of Taft," was the wording of a sign flaring across a vacant Wabash avenue building this morning. Wabash avenue is the main artery to the convention hall.

Rev. John Wesley Hill, pastor of the Metropolitan temple, New York, delivered the prayer just after Chairman Lodge called the session to order. Senator Hopkins, of Illinois, chairman of the committee on resolution then took the stage and read the draft of the platform as agreed upon by the committee. "No, no, no," in chorus came from a number of delegations when the Senator reached the paragraph suggesting a clearer definition of the rules of procedure with reference to writ of injunction. Others shouted "yes, yes," and "go on." At 11:16 the reading of the platform was concluded.

Representative Cooper of Wisconsin, presented on behalf of the minority, a report protesting against certain sections of the platform as framed up by the committee and offering sub-planks. Along the line of Senator LaFollette's railway regulation views, one plank gave inter-state commerce commission absolute authority to pass on railroad rates, another for federal inventory of railroad property. The minority report also demanded tariff reform along the lines advocated by McKinley.

The trusts were bitterly denounced. Mr. Cooper announced that he alone had signed this report.

Chicago, June 18—The anti-injunction plank was adopted by the resolutions committee of the Republican national convention this morning after Wade H. Ellis of Ohio, had read to the members a telegram from Secretary Taft which said:

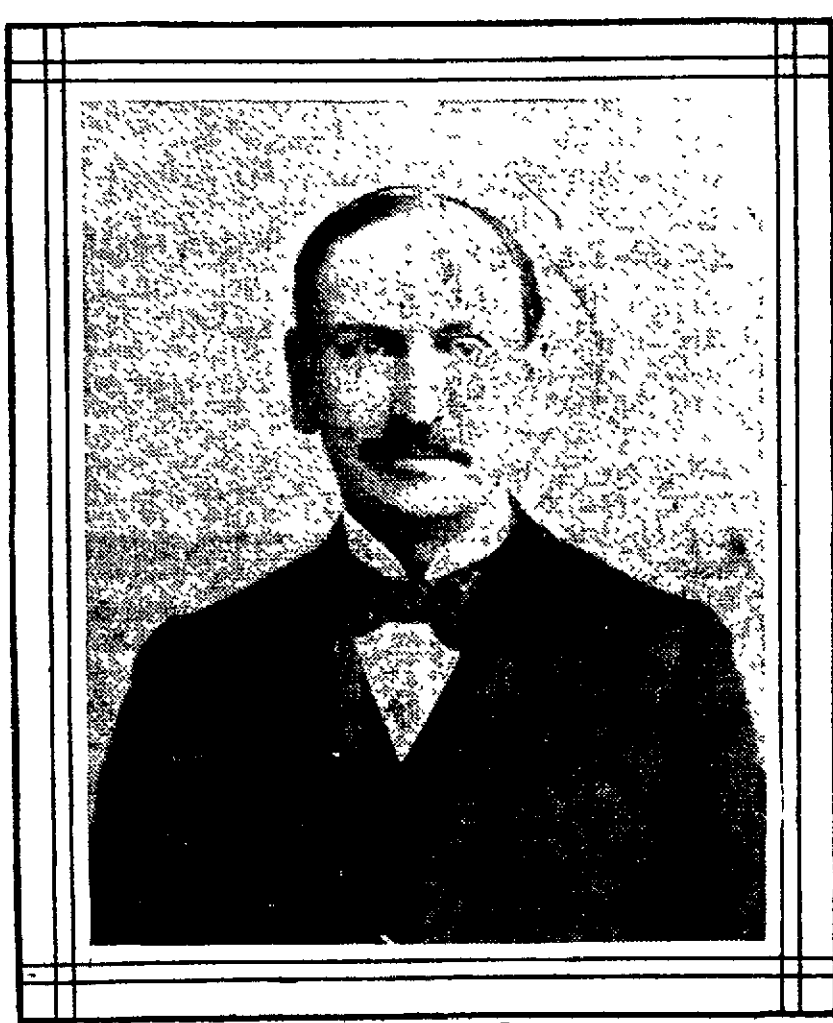

"We can fight well if we can fight right. It is imperative that such a plank (anti-injunction) should go into the platform."

During the discussion of the telegram, one from President Roosevelt was read by Frank Kellogg of Minnesota, saying that he hoped very much that the anti-injunction plank would be adopted and added: "I stand for a square deal and am not in accord with the extremists, neither of the manufacturers' association nor of the trade unionists. I hope very much that this plank will go into the platform." The vote by which the plank was adopted was 2 to 16.

The following is the text of the anti-injunction plank: "The Republican party will uphold at all times the authority and integrity of the courts, state and federal, and will ever insist that their powers to enforce their process and to protect life, liberty and property shall be preserved inviolate. We believe, however, that the rules of procedure in the federal courts with respect to the issuance of a writ of injunction should be more accurately defined by statute, policies. Declares for equal opportunity, for all in the development and enjoyment of the nation's great natural wealth, cites quick recovery from the recent financial disturbance as evidence of soundness of the party and administrative policy and currency system, commends the passage of the emergency bill and declares Democratic filibustering in congress prevented the enactment of many needed and progressive laws; approves acts of last congress; declares unequivocally for tariff revision; establishment of maximum and minimum rates to be administered by the President under limitations fixed in law, maximum to be available to meet discriminations by foreign countries against American goods entering their markets, minimum to represent normal measure of protection at home, the aim and purpose being not only to preserve, without excessive duties, that security against foreign competition to which American manufacturers, farmers and producers are entitled, but also to maintain the high standard living of wage-earners in this country. Approves emergency measures taken by the government in the recent financial disturbance, commends the passage of the Aldrich-Vreeland bill and the appointment of a national monetary commission, and expresses confidence that by this means a more elastic and adequate currency system will be developed. Declares for postal savings banks. Recommends amendment for the Sherman anti-trust law to give the government greater supervision and control over, and secure greater publicity in the management of corporations engaged in interstate commerce. Favors extension of free rural mail delivery. Declares for enforcement of 13th, 14th and 15th amendments designated for the protection and advancement of negroes, and condemns disfranchisement. Indorses systematic improvement of waterways; declares for the army and navy policy which will keep Republican days ready to defend traditional doctrines and assure appropriate part in promoting permanent tranquility among nations; pledges protection to or, 'I regard it as being equivalent to no anti-injunction plank whatever,' said John Mitchell, President Gompers refused to make any comment.

Chicago, June 18—The platform submitted to the convention by the resolutions committee lands the Republican party and achievements and declares both party and country attained the highest ideals under President Roosevelt who has made a higher standard of right and wrong in private life the cardinal principles of political faith, has compelled brave and impartial enforcement of law, prosecution of illegal trusts and monopolies, exposure and punishment of evildoers in public service, brought capital and labor into closer relationship and routed privilege and favoritism by justice and fair play. Declares unflinching adherence to his

American citizens in foreign lands, approves international arbitration and advocates encouragement to American shipping.

Commends increase in widows pensions made by present congress, increases civil service; recommends legislation to effect greater efficiency in public health agencies, favors the establishment of a bureau of mines and mining; commends American government of Cuba expressing hope that Cuba may soon be able to resume sovereignty. Expresses the belief that natives Porto Ricans should become citizens. Declares the Philippines advancing to ever increasing measure of home rule; declares time justified the selection of the Panama route for the Isthmian canal; favors immediate admission of the territories in New Mexico and

NEWARK GETS THE NEXT G.A.R. ENCAMPMENT

Lima, Ohio June 18—Newark gets 1909 G.A.R. Encampment by 209 majority. A great fight was put up by Lorain, but Newark "Booster s and Rooters" filled convention hall, and cries of "Newark, 1909" filled the air. It was a hot fight, but the Newark boys left no loopholes.

When the announcement of the vote was received, the convention went wild with enthusiasm and cries of "I'll meet you at Newark next year" were shouted across the hall by the old veterans.

Secretary J. M. Maylone and all of the Newark boomers were surrounded by their friends in the convention and warmly congratulated on the success of their efforts.

The autos, those that are left, will start for home within the hour.

DES. B. KIRK.

NEWARK BOOMERS

KEEP UP WORK
Lima, O., June 18—The Newark delegation was out early to renew the hustling this morning. The convention met at 9 o'clock to decide upon next year's location. Some of the delegates left early for home, but the majority remained until after the encampment's decision was made.

HOMES FROM LIMA.

Carv T. Brock returned home from Lima Wednesday evening in his automobile, accompanied by Josiah McKinney, Robert W. Howard and R. G. Smythe. The party left Lima at 11:30 a. m. and reached Newark at 7 p. m.

Speaking of the Newark boomers, Mr. Smythe said: "Out of the best friends this city has, Lima was Mr. J. Richards, of Cincinnati, who travels for a Cleveland office house. Mr. Smythe says that Mr. Richards did very effective work among the G. A. R. veterans."

Lima, O., June 18—Ten automobiles, loaded with boomers and determined to capture the next encampment for Newark, paraded the streets today. They have valuable aides, Mr. D. B. Kirk, of the Newark Advocate, and Mr. Chas. D. Matthews, of the American, both mighty bright members of the newspaper fraternity. —Times Democrat.

The Lorain delegation is busily engaged in working the city in opposition to Newark for next year's convention encampment and both headquarters at the Hotel Norval and the Lima House are busy at all times. Comrade D. S. Ball is in charge of the latter while ex-Mayor F. J. King of Lorain, is in charge of the former.

Rev. N. J. Hadley, pastor of the First English Lutheran church at Lorain arrived with the delegation of 190 from the lake city. He made the speech at the convention for Lorain, but city losing to Lima by only seven votes. He will doubtless make this all serious work. He is hustling all that is possible for Lorain.

The big Campaign Lohan band from the Steel City will probably be here tomorrow and if not some other band from that city will be secured. It is thought by the Lorain delegation that the foreign band, owing to its great renown, will be more effective. A concert will be given in the band stand on the square in the evening. The organization arrives on schedule time. At any rate Lorain is promising some surprises in the parade Thursday.—Lima Republican Gazette.

The Newark automobiles were all nicely decorated with streamers bearing the words "Newark 1909," and attracted much attention as they passed down the street. The occupants immediately got busy, and there was considerable advertising on the part of the city during the day and a general warfare of good feeling was the Lorain delegation, which is also to be after next year's encampment.

A number of men prominent in Newark affairs are in the city with the delegation from that city, including Congressman Aschbrook, from Jackson court, who is resident of Newark and George Smith, one of the city's most influential business men.

Banners, streamers and books are being distributed by the Newark delegation. One of the principal means of advertising are feathers of various colors attached to which are banners. These are thrown on persons passing along the street, and are bound to stick wherever they are placed.—Lima Republican Gazette.

HEARD DEMONSTRATION

President Caught Words of Lodge and Listened to Tumult

Was Very Much Pleased and Contented With Outcome After Which He Left for Drive.

Chicago, June 18—It is said that President Roosevelt himself was an actual listener to the wild demonstration of enthusiasm which greeted his name in the convention. Remarkable as this may seem, it is accounted for by the following circumstances. Hanging ten feet above the heads of the delegates and immediately in front of the platform are four black discs looped together with wires and joined by means of a small central cable leading from the hall. Many have wondered at these discs, believing them to be a part of the system of electrical display. As a matter of fact they are a combination of telephone and phonograph, taking up the proceedings as they progress and transmitting each swell of oratory and each throb of enthusiastic applause. According to the reports last night one of the wires was "cut into" the White House and the President, with the receiver to his ear, caught the words of Lodge as he electrified the vast assembly and the echoing shouts which ebbed and flowed for full 45 minutes.

It is said, moreover, that the President, pleased with the demonstration, made his feelings known to some of the leaders here, and then contented with the outcome, went out to drive.

THIS MAN WAS LIBERAL

New York, June 18.—Mrs. Jane Schwartz, a little woman with a big baby, arraigned her husband, Jacob Schwartz, of No. 234 Metropolitan avenue, Williamsburg, in the Lee avenue court on a charge of assault. A black eye gave silent testimony to the husband's brutality.

"How much do you give your wife?" asked Magistrate Furlong.

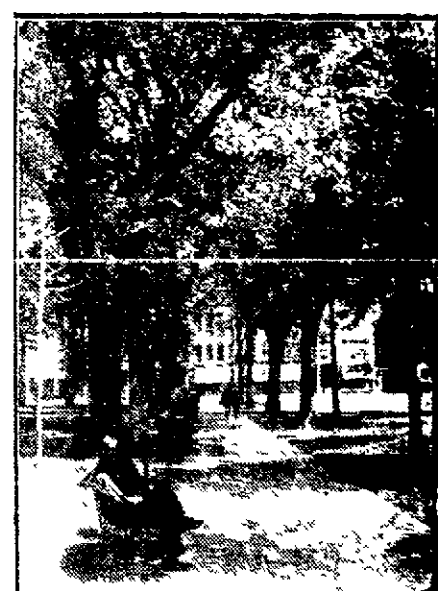

"Well, I am a poor man," began Schwartz. "I give her five cents a day."

Then Magistrate Furlong asked the question again, feeling sure there was some mistake.

"I give her five cents every day," said Schwartz. "It is all I can afford."

"Then you will go to jail until you find some means to afford more," said the court emphatically, and Schwartz was committed in default of $1,000 bail.

IRON TRADE REVIEW

Cleveland, June 18.—The Iron Trade Review today says: The trade has not yet recovered from the sudden and unexpected shock caused by the recent concessions in the prices of finished materials, particularly on plates and shapes. The volume of business in steel bars has been gratifying, but it was not unexpected, inasmuch as the agricultural implement manufacturers, who have been the big buyers during the past week, always place contracts for their year's requirements during the month preceding July 1.

The coke market has also been active, and higher prices are being quoted on third quarter and last half coke. There is very little demand for spot coke, but on contracts covering requirements through the last half of the year, at least 216,000 tons of foundry coke has been placed during the past week.

There is but little movement in pig iron, and the reduction in ore prices has in no way affected this commodity. As far as a buying movement in plates and shapes is concerned, nothing in a big way is expected until the railroads start to purchase. The change came too late to be of advantage in any extensive building movement, the season being too far advanced to start important operations. The Chicago convention, as an excuse for delaying action until after the nominations have been made, has played its part in the transactions of the week, especially with those who have been looking for a plausible reason to postpone action in order to await more settled conditions after the readjustment in prices.

SEEN FROM AN AIRSHIP.

Riding in an airship miles up in the air, 'tis a mode of travel to raise a person's hair. However 'tis a good way to see the earth, you know, it looks just like a great large ball when you look down below. If you are ever riding thus high up in the sky, just cast your eyes below you and know the reason why, some houses in the towns beneath shine out so very bright, it is because they're painted with our own old Sparan White. Spartan White Lead is scientifically correct; wears longer and protects the wood better than other leads. Made by The Marietta Paint & Color Co., Marietta, Ohio. Sold by The Newark Paint Co., 31 W. FALLSBURG.

Mrs. Frances Frost who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jasper Nechea, returned to her home here Monday. Arthur Morrow purchased a new buggy of Lou McDowell, last week. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scott and J. W. Martin were Newark visitors Saturday. L. V. Hoyt and Newton Cochran were sacking wool at Matt Frost's Thursday. Ross and John Frost hauled wool to L. V. Hoyt Friday. W. D. Beatty of Martinsburg hauled a drill stem to the Porter well, Thursday. J. M. Porter, K. A. Barcroft and daughter Della, were in Newark Saturday. Mr. J. G. Frampton of Perryton, our new mail-carrier, began his work on Route No. 2, Black Run, Tuesday. Mr. Joseph Farmer made his last trip as carrier, Monday. As Mr. James Colville and son Dorwin in a buggy, and Mrs. Colville and daughter, Miss Ethel, in another buggy were going to church last Sunday morning, the former's horse got scared and broke loose from the buggy. This excited the other horse, which upset the buggy and threw the occupants out. With the exception of some bruises, no one was seriously injured. Both buggies were wrecked. Elder U. G. Porter filled his appointment at St. Louisville, Sunday. Mrs. Lizzie Baker is very ill at this writing. Mr. Don Ashcraft of Frazzeshurg, took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Holmes, Monday. Mrs. Newton Andrews and children and Mrs. Velma Kinsey of Newark, visited relatives here, Saturday and Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. D. W. McQueen of St. Louisville. Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Booth were Columbus callers, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ridenbaugh of Black Run, spent Sunday at S. F. Gilbreath's. Mrs. Austin Meek and children of Danville, are visiting at the home of Mr. George Meek. Miss Mabel Booth returned to her home at Perryton, Monday evening, after a week's visit with her cousins, Misses Etta and Vernice Booth. The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. James Criss is better at this writing. Miss Ina Baker of Black Run, spent the first of the week with Mrs. Lizzie Baker. Mrs. Artis Frost visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Vanwinkle, a part of the week. Elizabeth Fawcett has sold her property to Amos Vanwinkle.

DELIGHTFUL TRIP

TAKEN BY ADVOCATE REPRESENTATIVE IN AUTO TO COUNTY INFIRMARY.

Guest of Supt. and Mrs. Majors and Directors—Many Improvements at Institution.

Wednesday the county infirmaries directors, consisting of Messrs. Samuel Hankinson, Albert Norris and S. H. Beadle held their mid-monthly visiting and business meeting at the county infirmaries, and through their kindness an Advocate representative had the pleasure of paying a visit to the institution and being a guest of Superintendent Ira Majors and his estimable wife, and the board of directors.

It was originally planned that the reporter was to take the interurban car to Granville, there to be met with a conveyance and taken to the institution. Later, however, Mr. Chauncey Tucker extended an invitation to the Advocate representative to accompany him and Mr. B. F. Hagney, foreman of the Tucker boiler works, to the institution in his auto, as they were going to inspect two boilers that had been condemned last fall. It is needless to say that the invitation was accepted and a most enjoyable ride was had "over the hills to the poor house."

Upon the arrival of the newspaper man at the institution they were given a hearty reception by Superintendent Majors and wife, and the board of directors, and were escorted through the buildings and taken over the big farm.

One of the first things that attracts the attention of the visitor to the infirmaries is the great improvement that has been made in the buildings and on the farm during the past several years. The buildings are all well kept and are models of neatness and cleanliness. The inmates are all well treated and present a neat appearance. The extensive fields and lawns surrounding the institution show the result of the hard work and close attention that have been expended upon them. A noted improvement is the handsome new barn recently completed, which was greatly needed.

The men's building has been greatly improved in appearance, being newly painted. The old cement floors in this building have been taken out and replaced with new cement floors, the old cement being used on the roadway leading around the farm. The main buildings have all been equipped with fire escapes.

The crops look well and the fences over the farm are all in good repair. The buildings that formerly stood on the north side of the driveway have been moved to a point south of the boiler room, and are now used as the slaughter house and storage and lard department. In the rear of the slaughter house is the rendering room, which is equipped with three large kettles used for rendering lard.

Surrounding the institution, exclusive of the beautifully kept lawns are 236 acres, including broad fields of timothy and clover and land under cultivation. Last year the crop of wheat amounted to about 350 bushels not quite enough to supply the institution. Last year 35 acres of corn, producing nearly 50 bushels to the acre, were harvested. About 25 acres have been planted in corn this year, and the indications are that there will be a bumper crop. Last year 325 bushels of oats were harvested and over 100 tons of hay were put up, of which 65 tons were sold.

On the farm there are 20 head of cattle with 12 milk cows, from which is derived about 35 gallons of milk per day, and as they churn every day enough butter is secured to supply the institution. There are also six head of work horses and a team of driving horses, and about 60 head of hogs, all in excellent condition.

Outside of Superintendent Majors' immediate family there are several men employed, among them being "Nick," the Italian gardener, who is considered one of the best in the county. "Nick" formerly lived in Newark, but now takes great pride in his garden, which is a model of neatness. In the garden are everything in the vegetable line, and he has tomatoes already that are the size of walnuts.

At present there are 67 inmates, 25 females and 44 males. They all think a great deal of Mr. and Mrs. Majors, especially the women think a great deal of Mrs. Majors, who has more to do with them than her husband. Some of them are able to assist and all seem glad to be able to do so. The inmates are all treated with kindness and all realize that as long as they behave themselves they will be treated well.

UTICA WEDDING

Mr. Wilson Gardner of Columbus, and Miss Genevieve Wilson, Flight Troth in Pretty Ceremony.

Cupid has reigned supreme during this, the month of roses, and his victims have been many, among them being Miss Genevieve Clark Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wilson of Utica, and Mr. Wilson Henry Gardner of Columbus, who were wedded Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents in North Main street.

The residence was magnificently arranged with flowers, the parlor being with American beauty roses, while the living room was very pretty with blossoms and foliage. Here an improvised altar was made of masses of marguerites, white lilies and palms, the effect was complete with the soft glow of a large number of candles placed in cathedral candlesticks.

At the appointed hour Miss Grace Lamson of Cleveland, sang, "In Verdure Glad," from the "Creation," and then the orchestra took up the soft strains of the Mendelssohn wedding march and the dainty ribbon-bearers, Miss Martha Wright of Newark, and Miss Ellen Outhwaite, of Columbus, clad in white with ribbons of pink formed the aisle for the bridal party. The ushers were Messrs. Robert Sheldon, Jr., Stanton G. Prentiss, Saxon Alberry, all of Columbus, and Wilbur Wilson of Utica. The bridesmaids were Miss Elizabeth Michael, Miss Florence Adams and Miss Blanche Peak, all of Cleveland. Their gowns were of pink mousseline, and each carried a bouquet of white sweet peas. The matron of honor, Mrs. Stanton G. Prentiss of Columbus, formerly Miss Virginia Knox of Newark preceded the bride and she wore her wedding gown of white liberty satin and lace, and she also carried sweet peas. The bride entered on the arm of her father and wore an elaborate costume of white satin with a bertha of brussels lace. It was princess and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The groom, Mr. Gardner, was attended by Mr. Edwin K. Stewart of Columbus.

Rev. Mr. Glover of the Presbyterian church, solemnized the wedding, the ring ceremony being used.

Dinner was announced immediately after the ceremony, and the dining room was extremely pretty with pink and white, the flowers being sweet peas, a basket of the favored flowers with asparagus fern formed the centerpiece for the bride's table, and ribbons were used in festooning. Dainty booklets of white kid with monograms of gold seated the guests here, there being Mr. and Mrs. Gardner, the bride party, several relatives, all numbering eighteen.

During the entire afternoon Parker's orchestra of Columbus, rendered the music that added so much to the occasion. The bride gave as tokens to her maids and matron of honor, tiny gold pins of daisy design with pearl setting, while the groom gave the best man and ushers stickpins. His gift to the bride was a crown-shaped brooch with pearls and amethysts.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardner left for trip through the East, visiting points of interest, and on their return will reside at the Lincoln in Columbus, where Mr. Gardner is secretary of the Middle States Coal company.

The Newark guests present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Wright and family, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Wright and son Frederick, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Ball, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. Wm. Bell, Mrs. Merlon, Mr. Walter Sperry and Judge Rees.

Death Was on His Heels.

Jesse P. Morris, of Skippers, Va., had a close call in the spring of 1906. He says: "An attack of pneumonia left me so weak and with such a fearful cough that my friends declared consumption had me, and death was on my heels. Then I was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery. It helped me immediately, and after taking two and a half bottles I was a well man again. I found out that New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and lung disease in all the world." Sold under guarantee at F. D. Hall's drug store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

WINTERED: Gold Medal Flour is best for pastry. BEATRICE.

Philadelphians, June 18.—As Mrs. Hannah Mulefsky awaited her husband's home-coming at 1010 South Third street, last evening, she held her six-months-old daughter in her arms, while her three-year-old son Morris leaned out the window, looking for papa.

As his father came around the corner little Morris cried: "Here's papa." The cry startled the mother, who let the baby fall to the pavement below.

She then became hysterical, and, catching little Morris in her arms, without a moment's hesitation, leaped after the baby. When the father, who witnessed the tragedy, reached the spot, the three were lying in a heap, all so badly injured that there is no hope for their recovery.

DESTITUTE BECAUSE OF FLOODS

New Orleans, La., June 18.—The number of known flood sufferers in Louisiana was today increased to $4,200 by reports from Major Foote, U. S. A., who is now investigating in Arroyelles and Rapides parishes. He found $2,000 persons in those parishes along the Red River, who were practically destitute of necessities. Last week Major Foote found 2,300 overflow sufferers in the Black river district.

WASHINGTON

INTERESTING BUDGET OF NEWS FOUND IN THE DESERTED CAPITAL.

Will Celebrate the Fourth in Panama—Complete Inquiry Into Paper Industry.

Washington, June 18.—They are going to celebrate the glorious Fourth down in Panama. The canal commission has decided to send to New York for six hundred dollars worth of real American-made Chinese fire crackers, and they are going to burn enough red light to make the whole zone blush.

Commissioner Blackburn suggested the idea and all the other commissioners and everybody else who has ever heard the Declaration of Independence read from the little pagoda out in the school yard and listened to the village orator discuss the destinies of the nation with one hand concealed in the "buzzum" of his waistcoat and the other on the sweating water pitcher, was there to answer the call. They are going to have as many committees as were ever created back in God's country for a similar patriotic function, and every committee is going to have everything on the program that was ever devised for the amusement and exaltation of a Fourth-of-July crowd, from red lemonade to the evening concert by the cornet band.

Now that the pressure for an early report on the price of print paper and wood pulp is past, the House committee authorized to investigate the paper industry will continue its work, with the object of making it the most complete inquiry into the manufacture of paper that has ever been conducted.

Under the supervision of Chairman Mann (Rep., Ill.), at least one expert each in the Bureau of Labor, the Census Office, the Forest Service, and the Bureau of Statistics will be put to work gathering information about the cost of labor and material, the destruction of the American supply of material for the manufacture of paper, and numerous other phases of the problem about which the bureaus were unable to reply satisfactorily when the committee called upon it, during the preliminary inquiry.

To the State Department will be suggested formally the problem of negotiating a treaty with Great Britain, on behalf of Canada, whereby the water power of this country and the spruce timber, from which paper is made, in Canada, may be utilized and conserved by each country to the mutual advantage of the other. Requests will also be made that consular agents in Norway and other European countries gather information relative to the production of wood suitable for the paper industry and the manufacture of paper in Europe.

During the summer, Rep. Stafford, (Rep., Wis.), has been assigned to the task of gathering information about the paper industry in Wisconsin. He is empowered to take testimony in his discretion at the Wisconsin mills.

Rep. Bannon, (Rep., O.), will carry on a similar work in Ohio and West Virginia, no limitations being fixed on the nature of his investigations in that territory. He will probably hold formal hearings at several mills.

Rep. Ryan, (Dem., N. Y.), another member of the committee, will investigate the situation in the New York mills, while Rep. Sims, (Dem., Tenn.), will study conditions in the South, and Rep. Miller, (Rep., Kans.), in the West.

Headquarters will be maintained for some time, at least, in Washington.

The data that the committee gathers will probably be used by the committee on ways and means when it comes to revising the tariff in the last session of the 60th congress, or the first of the 61st.

At the same time, but independently, the Department of Agriculture will continue its experiments with various plants, in an effort to discover something that may be substituted for spruce wood in the manufacture of news print paper.

Despite the popular notion of the ponderosity and slow-moving qualities of the Supreme court of the United States, that tribunal achieved a note-worthy record during the term just closed, as follows:

WHAT IT DECIDED THIS TERM:
La Follette Employers' Liability law unconstitutional.

Greater Pittsburg law constitutional.

Federal courts have limited power only to punish conspiracy to prevent negroes from working.

Federal government cannot punish captains of steamers for the landing and escape of foreigners on crew.

Import duties collected during occupation of Cuba in 1898 legal.

Federal authorities limited in land fraud prosecutions, and new trial granted former Rep. John Newton Williamson of Oregon.

Liquor laws of Kansas declared constitutional.

Federal receivership of New York City railways upheld.

Constitutionality of Kentucky law forbidding education of negroes and whites together in private school.

Constitutionality of 80 cent gas law of New York.

There is one case at least to prove that American baseball and a tropical climate can be hitched up to together and made to amble along comfortably. Down on the Isthmus of Panama, where the Americans are digging the ditch, exists the nearest-equaler league in existence. There are seven teams—the Ancons, Culebras, Gorgonas, Marines and others—all of which have played from twenty-five to thirty-four games in the present series, with Ancons in the lead.

When the bleachers—a nice little palm-shaded hillside—let loose, it sounds as if some of the steam shovel sirens had broken away from the out. It's a good way to blow off the accumulation of longing for the dear old states, and it helps a lot to shoot bunches of hot talk at the umpire—an awful lot. It reminds one of the dear old bleachers at home, when Lejole soaked out that three bagger in the ninth three years ago.

No Jamaican or Panamanian or Portuguese wonders have turned up yet. The star players are those like Bill Smith on shovel 16, who gets his practice out behind the mess quarters after the whistle blows. After suffering for seven years, this woman was restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Read her letter.

Mrs. Sallie French, of Paucanla, Ind. Ter., writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I had female troubles for seven years—was all run-down, and so nervous I could not do anything. The doctors treated me for different troubles but did me no good. While in this condition I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am now strong and well."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Don't hesitate to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about your sickness you do not understand. She will treat your letter in confidence and advise you free. No woman ever regretted writing her, and because of her vast experience she has helped thousands. Address, Lynn, Mass.

lazy wonder. As Bill Smith says: "Hell! There's only one real way to learn baseball—out in the lot back of the car barns. And they ain't got no car barns down here."

Secluded in his residence on the outskirts of the city and denied to all callers, Senator La Follette is working in violation of the eight-hour law revising his record-breaking long-distance speech delivered during the closing hours of the Senate. He frankly confesses that the revision of the speech is a much more arduous job than its delivery.

During those eighteen hours and twenty-three minutes that the Wisconsin Senator held the floor, the stenographers were worked almost to a frenzy in taking down his remarks. Although the Senator did not speak at a rapid rate, not more than 125 words a minute on an average, he delivered something like 135,000 words.

The speech when transcribed from the stenographers notes, weighed 20 pounds, and when the messenger delivered it at the Senator's residence for revision, before printing in the Congressional Record, he had to use a wagon.

The revision would have been easy had La Follette merely read from the printed documents he used without break. But he made the occasion interesting for his audience, as well as difficult for the stenographers, by interspersing his own ideas unexpectedly between the printed lines.

Watching for the faintest response to treatment, a corps of eye specialists are determining this week whether there is any hope of Senator Thos. P. Gore, the brilliant statesman from Oklahoma, ever regaining his sight, lost thirty years ago.

The Senator long ago despaired of ever seeing again, and the present treatment comes solely in response to the pleading of his faithful wife, who accompanies him wherever he goes, whether it be on the stump or to the sessions of the Senate. She believes there may still be a chance of his seeing. When specialist after specialist, upon examining his eyes and reporting that the optic nerve was totally dead, advised that there was no hope, she continued her search for an oculist who was not so positive. One was found in Washington.

"Senator Gore has not allowed himself to be optimistic," said Mrs. Gore when her husband went to the hospital. "He will not be greatly disappointed, should the experiment fail. Should it succeed, we will be overjoyed, although both the Senator and I have become so accustomed to his blindness that it would be almost like starting in life again."

The Senator is sensitive over important questions about the manner in which he lost his sight. When 8 years old he was struck in the left eye with a boy's arrow. The eye was permanently injured. Three years later he bought an air gun. Boy like, he looked down the barrel one day and the little shot entered his right eye, completely destroying it.

Later he went to a hospital and his sight was sufficiently restored to his left eye to enable him to play games, and to distinguish objects. Gradually the sight dimmed again, and he was totally blind within a few months.

Once he went to Chicago to see an oculist, but becoming engaged in other matters, returned home without seeing the specialist. The Senator himself has not much faith in eye doctors.

Profiting by the example of Kansas farmers hiring young college students as harvest hands, Herbert Knox Smith, commissioner of corporations, is employing collegians as trust busters.

The Bureau of Corporations requires, year by year, the services of a large number of men competent to do research work of various kinds. The bureau is constantly being ordered by Congress to investigate something. Men are needed who can fairly appraise moral and social values, who will enter their work with the right attitude of mind, who have not acquired prejudices and predilections, and who have no reason for misrepresenting what they discover.

After a good deal of experimenting, the Bureau has developed a theory that young men just out of college, post graduates, students between the junior and senior years, and young professors, are the ones on the whole best fitted for this sort of work.

Not long ago Smith talked of the possibilities of government service to a group of young men at the Nebraska University, at Lincoln, Neb., and as a result several are making money this summer at trust busting. The same experiment was tried successfully at the University of Pennsylvania.

"Because the chap with a disposition to earn his way through college is pretty certain to have something in 'worth getting out,'" as Commissioner Smith puts it, he prefers the fellow who is paying for his own education.

Lima, O. June 18.—The locals won yesterday's game from the fast Molders' aggregation by shutting them out by a score of 5 to 0. Captain Kahl knocked out a homer in the seventh when there were two men on bases. Pickett pitched excellent ball and but one visitor reached second. Joe Locke pitched fair ball and until the seventh held the Bean Eaters down well. He struck out six men while Pickett, for the locals, fanned two. The game was not as well attended as it should have been considering that the state encampment of the G. A. R. had brought thousands of visitors to the Bean City score:

Portsmouth, June 18.—A holiday crowd of 1,000 fans witnessed the double defeat of the new local team yesterday. The first game was a pitchers' battle with Doyle having all the best of it up until the seventh inning when he let down, allowing Marion to score two runs. Burke's pitching in the second game was too much for the Shoemakers and they barely escaped a shutout. Scores:

CARD TO THE PUBLIC

Editor Advertiser: I wish to state in answer to the imputation contained in the article which appeared in Wednesday's American-Tribune that I had deliberately dodged a subpoena in the cases against Lon Merrill and Robert Darnes, that it is absolutely false.

I was spending a vacation, and did not consider it necessary to inform every one in Newark of my whereabouts. I own property in Newark and my reputation is well established. I have never done anything which would make it necessary for me to evade any process of law. My vacation trip has been planned for weeks. I did not receive a subpoena, and know nothing about the cases in question, and I cannot see why any paper, because the prosecutor could not find a witness, should cast insinuations upon me.

W. J. STEINKEMPER.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Arizona separately to stanchood; recommends celebration, especially in schools, of the 100th anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, February 12, 1909. Declares that none of those great measures advocated by the Republican party could be enacted under a Democratic administration, therefore, continuance of present policies demand their perpetuation in power.

In the main the platform follows the lines of the draft prepared by Wade Ellis in Washington after a consultation with President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft.

The entire minority report, with the exceptions of the planks referring to the election of C. S. Senators by the people, ascertaining of physical valuation of railroads and publication of campaign expenses was rejected. The vote was 952 to 28. These later three questions were then taken up.

The minority plank demanding publication of campaign expenditures and contributions was defeated 88 to 94. The minority proposition to ascertain physical valuation of railroads was defeated by 217 yeas to 63 nays.

The minority plank advocating the election of United States Senators by a direct vote, was defeated, 114 yeas to 886 nays.

The platform presented by the majority was then adopted without a division.

At 12:47 the roll call of states, started for presidential nominations. Boutwell nominated Cannon.

The mention of Lincoln's name by Representative Boutwell was received with vociferous applause and as he successively referred to other Republican presidents, including Roosevelt, the applause broke out afresh. For a time it looked as though there would be another Roosevelt demonstration when he referred to "our present matchless president, Theodore Roosevelt," but the applause died away in less than a minute.

At 1:14 Boutwell concluded his speech. Representative Fordney of Michigan, seconded the nomination of Cannon.

At 1:21 Governor Hanley of Indiana, nominated Fairbanks.

Mayor Bookwalter of Indianapolis, seconded Fairbanks' nomination.

At 2:05 General Woodford of New York, nominated Governor Hughes.

At 2:17 Congressman Burton began his speech nominating Secretary Taft.

CONGRESSMAN BURTON
NOMINATES SEC. TAFT

Theodore Burton, the Ohio congressman who placed William H. Taft in nomination for the presidency, addressed the national Republican convention as follows:

This convention enters upon the grave responsibility of selecting a presidential candidate with the serene assurance that the Republican party will continue to rule this people. What assembled multitude in any land has ever pointed the way to such beneficent results for home and for the progress of the whole human race as the recurring conventions of this grand old organization? Yet we do not rely alone upon the record of that which it has accomplished. We emphasize even more its supreme qualification to solve the problems of the present.

It is especially appropriate that this gathering should be held in this marvelous city of Chicago, whence the steel bands of commerce reach out in every direction over plain and river and mountain to almost boundless distance, bringing the richest treasures of a continent to lay them at your feet. Here it was that the righteous uprising against slavery and Bourbonism sprang from the nation's conscience, raised its first triumphant voice when Abraham Lincoln was nominated. And here again, with notes of thunderous acclaim, enraptured throngs greeted the naming of Garfield, of Blaine, of Harrison and of Roosevelt.

Again Ohio presents a candidate to the national Republican convention. In seven stubbornly contested presidential campaign sons of her sacred soil have led the embattled Republican hosts to victory. The Buckeye state has assuredly contributed her share of statesmen and generals for the upbuilding of the nation. But that of which we are prouder still is her stalwart citizenship, the mightiest bulwark of the republic in every commonwealth, made up of America's freemen, ever ready to respond to the tocsin of alarm in days of peril or to crush corruption whenever it raises its menacing head. From this citizenship Ohio in the supreme emergency of the civil war sent forth more than 200,000 soldiers for our country's defense, a formidable array, easily surpassing in numbers the world-conquering legions of imperial Caesar and even larger than any army ever mustered by Britain for the tented field. But transcendent above all is the fact that Ohio is one of a matchless union of states linked together in everlasting bonds of amity and constituting an empire wonderful in power and almost immeasurable in extent. Each sovereign state alone would occupy but a subordinate place in the great current of the world's events, but when represented by one of 46 bright stars on a field of stainless blue every one forms part of an emblem of union and of strength more beautiful far than the most brilliant constellation in the heavens.

Welcomes Rivalry.

We welcome the friendly rivalry of candidates from other states, from the great Empire state, the Keystone state, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin, forming with Ohio a broad expanse extending in unbroken sweep from old ocean to the uppermost bound of the greatest inland seas. Each of these presents a leader among leaders whose achievements and renown are not confined to the narrow limits of a single commonwealth. Today with fervid earnestness we wage a contest for the prize. Tomorrow, united for the fray and quickened by a common fiery zeal, the champions of all the candidates will go forth with mounting enthusiasm to vanquish the foe.

The most perplexing questions of today arise from the bountiful development of our material wealth. Such a development can not occur without the creation of inequalities and dangers to the social fabric. I most strenuously deny that the American business man or the American citizen cherishes lower standards than the citizens of any other country. The American people are by no means depraved. But by reason of their busy absorption in varied pursuits and of the glamour which attends success in great undertakings questionable methods have been able to ensnare themselves upon the business of the country. Rich rewards have too frequently been gained by some who are none too scrupulous. Monopoly, dishonesty and fraud have assumed a prominence which calls for the earnest attention and condemnation of every man who truly loves the republic.

Against all these abuses and in the work for restoring old ideals of honesty and equality as well as for higher standards of civic duty one man has stood pre-eminent, and that man is Theodore Roosevelt. Against corruption in every form he has set his face with grim determination, prompt and fearless in action and with that intelligent leadership which has assured the establishment of a better era, in which the strong and the weak alike must submit themselves to the impartial execution of the law. There was need of a strong, courageous spirit to restrain those destructive forces which have asserted themselves in this time of growth and plenty. The story of his achievements will make up one of the brightest pages in the history of this or any age, and will prove that today, as in any critical hour of social unrest or of danger, the man will appear who can grapple with the emergency.

We so fit to take up the tasks, which this wonderful generation demands should be wisely and impartially performed, as his great war secretary? Since the day when, in Benjamin Harrison's administration, these two first met—the one as solicitor general, the other as a member of the civil service commission—they have been bound together by like ideals and aims, by close ties of friendship and by the exchange of mutual counsel, each with his own individuality and characteristics keeping constantly in view the ennobling vision of a better and a greater America. They have not been satisfied with the temple of prosperity should be decked alone by the jewels of the fortunate and the opulent, but have insisted that it should still more abound in trophies which commemorate the enforcement of even-handed justice and the maintenance of that equal opportunity which spreads hope and blessing even to the humblest home. Since the day when, less than 30 years of age, Mr. Taft denounced with burning words a member of his profession who had been guilty of flagrantly vicious practices and had demoralized the community, he has ever been associated with the cause of true reform—with that reform which will not content itself with academic dissertation or hollow words. He has been imbued with the spirit of action. His advocacy of sounder conditions has never risen from a desire for the exploitation of himself. It has always been based upon unswerving integrity and the courage to speak the truth as he understands it on all occasions, no matter how influential or powerful the evils which he may attack.

Taft's Qualifications.

No one has ever yet assumed the presidential chair who had received a more ideal preparation for the duties of that great office. As judge in state and federal courts, as solicitor general, as governor of the Philippines, as secretary of war, which has included the work of colonial secretary and director of national public works, he has received his training and has always shown himself master of the situation and competent to make more honorable and beloved the American name. There have been no years of inaction in his career. He had been continuously engaged in weighty tasks, and each successive service has been characterized by an increasing influence upon most vital questions.

In our domestic affairs in what ever position he has held he has displayed the rare union of a judicial temperament with an unsurpassed gift for administrative management. To him belongs the valuable faculty of eliminating the nonessential from complicated problems and going directly to their substance. His capacity for work is enormous, yet quiet as helpful is his equable temperament, which will not allow the annoyances of life to distract or hamper him. Although of an aggressive personality, he possesses an infinite good nature, a charm of manner and a poise which have made him a model for exalted station. In the final analysis even the highest officials must be judged as men, and under this criterion Secretary Taft is now and will ever be known for his broad sympathies with every grade of humanity and as one invariably actuated by that democratic spirit which should characterize a progressive American.

And yet no one can for a moment hesitate to recognize his severity in dealing with wrongdoing. While no honest enterprise need fear him, no dishonest scheme could hope to hide its face from the light or to escape punishment.

More than any other of our public men he has had to do with our outlying dependencies and colonial relations. It was he who took in charge the prosecution of that colossal enterprise on the isthmus, the canal unifying the lesser and the greater oceans, and under his directing hand the completion of this most stupendous of public works is no longer a vague and distant hope, but an imminent reality. With his ever ready skill as a pacificator, he restored tranquility in the fertile island of Cuba, so often distracted by civil strife. In the far-off Philippines, under a blazing tropical sky, he found a people of many races and tribes, degraded by centuries of misrule and oppression, and there, too, he not only established the rule of law and local control in place of confusion and bloody strife, but showed the way to self government and a new recognition of the rights of man, for peoples and races, like individuals, under the inspiration of a friendly guide, may lift their faces heavenward and seek to climb the great world's altar stairs to nobler heights of liberty and opportunity. It is to his lasting honor that his desire was not to be known as "Taft the proconsul," but as "Taft the father of the Philippines," who who brought to them the light of modern civilization.

In the larger sphere of world politics we are entering into new and closer bonds with all the nations of the earth. Who is better qualified than he to lead America to her true position in this later day when the boundaries established in the centuries past are becoming less distinct and kingdoms and races are beginning to realize that they have all one common destiny?

Secretary Taft has exceptional familiarity with conditions in the distant orient—in Japan, in China. We may rest assured that our traditional friendship with Japan will continue. Moreover, the future promises that the slumbering millions of China will awake from the lethargy of ages, and she then will realize that the morning dawn of fresher life and wider outlook comes to her across the broad Pacific from free America, her true friend and helper. We covet no portion of her territory. We desire from her, as from all nations, increased good will and that mutual respect which knows neither bluster nor cringing on either side. Thus in this new era of larger relations Secretary Taft, with his comprehension of national and international subjects, would furnish a certainty of peace and sustained prestige. Under him, at home and everywhere, this mighty people would have an assured confidence in the secure development and progress of the country and would rest safe in the reliance that a chief executive was at the helm who in peace or in war would guide the destinies of the nation with a strong hand and with a gentle, patting heart.

And so today, in the presence of more than ten thousand and with the inspiring thought of the well nigh ten thousand times ten thousand who dwell within our borders, I nominate for the presidency that perfect type of American manhood, that peerless representative of the noblest ideals in our national life, William H. Taft of Ohio.

When Congressman Burton started for the platform pandemonium broke out. "Hurrah," "Y. I. Zip," flags and banners, coats and hats went into the air and although Senator Lodge rapped for order the noise was kept up for four minutes. Throughout the demonstrations Mrs. Alice Longworth waved a banner from her seat beyond the speaker's platform.

Representative Burton received a fine hand as he began his speech. Burton concluded at 2:40 and the cheering demonstration for Taft was started by the Ohio delegates.

Two thirds of the delegates are standing on their chairs cheering for Taft.

At 2:47 the Taft demonstration still continued. At 2:49 the state standards were carried down the aisle in procession.

When the procession reached Ohio's reservation, the standard bearers halted and soon were gathered about Ohio's banner. Practically all the states but Pennsylvania, New York, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin were in the demonstration.

Chicago, June 18.—State Senator Marshall Duvall of Steubenville, and P. K. Tadsen of Port Clinton, were the Ohio delegates who voted for the election of United States senators by popular ballot. Their votes made the only break in Ohio on the platform planks.

Ohio rooters began preparing for the Taft hurrah early in the game. In the middle of Boutwell's speech, Assistant Attorney General Miller distributed American flags to the delegates. Ohio flags were generally waved for Cannon at the conclusion of Boutwell's speech.

ULTIMATUM ISSUED

Taft Insists Upon Injunction Plank in Platform.

MAY NOT ACCEPT NOMINATION

Administration Forces Bring Great Pressure to Bear Upon Sub-committee of Resolutions Committee and Modified Injunction Plank is Inserted—Roosevelt Praised.

Chicago, June 18.—"If the Republican convention deliberately refuses to adopt a platform on which Secretary Taft feels he can make a winning race, the Republican convention will have to nominate a man who needs no platform to win."

While this statement is not being put forward as an actual ultimatum, it is the principle upon which the advocates of an injunction plank are using to compel the convention to make such a declaration. It is their last resort, and to momentous import of the alternatives implied presents more strikingly than could anything else the desperate straits to which the supporters of an injunction declaration have been driven by the persistent fight that has been made against it. The statement quoted was made by a member of the sub-committee, which is preparing the platform, who is friendly to both Roosevelt and Taft. It was the result of a careful analysis of the situation made after 24 hours of almost continuous service in the committee room and undoubtedly presented his view of the situation. Proceeding, he said: "It is preposterous to ask Secretary Taft to make the race for the presidency on a platform which is not to his liking and especially in view of the fact that it is generally known that he has given much attention to the framing of the party's declaration of principles and policies. To do so would be to place him in the attitude in which Mr. Cleveland was placed when he was compelled in 1892 to repudiate his party's tariff plank and it is doubtful whether he will accept it. The sub-committee, which is preparing the platform, who is friendly to both Roosevelt and Taft. TWINS DIE WITHIN TWO MINUTES OF EACH OTHER

Marguerite and Irene, the twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Vance Inscho, living at Chatham, a village ten miles north of here, died Thursday morning about 6 o'clock, within two minutes of each other. Both contracted the whooping cough two weeks ago and during the entire time when one coughed the other would also. The twins are the only children of the family and would have been three months old on June 21. They will be buried together, the double funeral taking place at the home in Chatham, Friday, at 2 p. m.

people, upon principles embodied in the measure now pending in Congress and set for a vote on December 1 next. The differences between the Republican and Democratic parties are set forth in the following language:

In history the difference between Democracy and Republicanism is that the one stood for secession, the other for freedom; the one for a debased currency, the other for a pure currency; the one for free silver, the other for sound money; the one for free trade, the other for protection; the one for the contraction of American influence, the other for its expansion; the one has been forced to abandon every position, the other has held and vindicated all.

In experience, the difference between Democracy and Republicanism is that one means adversity, while the other means prosperity; one means low wages, the other means high; one means doubt and debt, the other means confidence and thrift.

In principle, the difference between Democracy and Republicanism is that one stands for vacillation and timidity in government, the other for strength and purpose; one stands for obstruction, the other for construction; one promises, the other performs; one finds fault, the other finds work.

TAKE NO MORE CHANCES.

Findlay, June 18.—The authoritative announcement comes from Prosecutor William L. David that he will take up no more Standard Oil cases during his term of office, which expires January 1, next. Mr. David says the cases have been left in such condition through decisions by the Circuit and Common Pleas courts that it would be impossible to complete any one during his term.

OHIO BRIEFS

Sandusky, June 18.—After trying in vain to raise $150 he owed an insistent neighbor, Henry Young, residing near Castella, shot himself.

Ironton, June 18.—Clarence Davis, aged 40, engineer on the steamer Monie Bonet, killed himself with a shotgun.

Marysville, June 18.—Fred Russell, colorist, was arrested charged with stealing lead, copper and block tin valued at $200 from the Evans and Mill company.

Marion, June 18.—To kill the fire in the big reservoir of the Marion City Water company, dynamite was used. More than 100 carp and 24 gallons of minnows were scooped from the water's surface and burned.
The fire became a menace to the city's water supply by making the water purify, and in some instances choking up the pipes.

Chillicothe, June 18.—Elmer D. 53
head of the lumber firm of Reed & Marshall, shot himself at his home last evening and is currently. He was despondent over ill health.

Potosi, June 18.—One woman is under arrest and two men are in jail at Friday, in connection with the robbery of the residence of James W.
Redburn here.

Lorain, June 18.—John Goss, who was recently freed from the chain by losing Robert Smith, on account of lack of evidence, is again in the jail charged with robbery. The police have found stolen goods in his trunks and cases.

Lorain, June 18.—Geo. Hoffman, a crane man at the National Tube company's skip mills, was fatally cooled alive and died in great agony. The

WOODMEN

Proposition to Raise Pay of National Delegates to Head Camp Sessions is Carried.

Peoria, Ill., June 18.—The second day of the head camp sessions of the Modern Woodmen of America was consumed by the election of officers and in a fight to reopen the proposition to make the pay of the delegates $10 per diem and ten cents a mile going and coming, and in a grand inspection of the 5000 Foresters by the grand officers. The fight closed against the raising of the pay of the delegates was lost. Buffalo was a leader for the next convention, which Denver and Omaha mighting hard.

The following officers were elected:
Head Consul, A. R. Talbot, Lincoln, Neb.; past head consul, W. A.
Northcott, Springfield, Ill.; head clerk,

BOYS SKIP FROM HOME

Ralph Roberts, aged 12, and Lee Warthen, aged 14, ran away from the Locking County Orphans' Home during Wednesday night, and the local police department is now on the lookout for them. No blame is placed on the superintendent of the institution, as it is not supposed to be a house of detention, and the children are given free use of the building and grounds, under liberal rules, and are placed on their honor.

The description of the boys in the hands of the police, has been sent to the surrounding country, and it is believed that the youngsters will be returned to the home within a few hours. The police records contain the following description of Roberts:
Light hair, slender, black waist, dark knee pants, age 12 years. Warthen is described as heavy, dark, thick lips, turn-up nose, dressed in long pants, striped waist and straw hat.

He Got What He Needed.
"Nine years ago it looked as if my time had come," says Mr. C. Farthing of Mill Creek, Ind. Ter. "I was so run down that life hung on a very slender thread. It was then my druggist recommended Electric Bitters. I bought a bottle and I got what I needed—strength. I had one foot in the grave, but Electric Bitters put it back on the turf again, and I've been well ever since." Sold under guaran-
